

CTO to Go

Gregory Harrison

If you look up “how to bring a product to market successfully and profitably” you’ll probably see Greg’s name listed as reference. Greg is an accomplished entrepreneur and tech leader with more than 20 years’ experience and multiple patents to his credit. He not only understands the complexities around architecting scaled systems and managing globally distributed engineering teams, he knows how to turn that know-how into viable products.

Greg’s raised more than $9.5 million in venture capital in very different environments (Seattle and Silicon Valley) and turned those investments into two successful exits.
